PROJECTS

Customer Feature Pipeline Implementation (HCL Technologies)

- Developed a Python-based feature pipeline to ingest and transform raw data for ML model training, processing over 100GB of data daily.
- Integrated the pipeline with existing AWS infrastructure, ensuring seamless data flow and compatibility with customer ML environments.
- Collaborated with client technical leads to define data requirements and validate pipeline outputs, ensuring alignment with their specific use cases.

Interactive Sales Dashboard (HCL Technologies)

- Built an interactive Power BI dashboard to visualize key sales performance metrics and customer engagement trends for a financial-services client.
- Designed data models and DAX measures to support complex analytical queries, enabling stakeholders to drill down into regional performance data.
- Published and maintained the dashboard on the Power BI service, providing a centralized source of truth for sales strategy discussions.
