PROJECTS

Customer Segmentation and Loyalty Insights Platform (MSc Capstone)

- Developed a comprehensive customer segmentation framework using Python and scikit-learn, analyzing purchase history and demographic data from a simulated retail dataset of ~500,000 transactions.
- Built interactive Power BI dashboards to visualize segment characteristics, purchasing behavior, and predicted lifetime value, enabling business stakeholders to identify high-potential customer groups.
- Evaluated the effectiveness of hypothetical loyalty incentives by simulating campaign uplifts and calculating projected Return on Investment (ROI) for different customer segments.

Retail Campaign Performance Analysis and Reporting (HCL Technologies)

- Engineered Python scripts to automate the extraction and transformation of customer data from various sources, including EPOS transaction logs and loyalty program databases, reducing manual processing time by 40%.
- Created SQL queries to aggregate campaign performance metrics and joined them with customer attribute data, supporting analysis of marketing voucher and incentive investments for a financial services client.
- Generated weekly operational reports on customer engagement and campaign reach using Power Query and SQL, providing actionable insights to the client's marketing operations team.
