PROJECTS

Enterprise Application Production Support Platform (HCL Technologies)

- Established proactive monitoring and alerting infrastructure using Splunk and Dynatrace across distributed systems, enabling early detection of performance anomalies and reducing mean-time-to-resolution by automating alert escalation workflows.
- Developed Python automation scripts to streamline incident triage and log aggregation, reducing manual investigation time and improving accuracy of root-cause analysis for complex multi-tier application issues.
- Documented support procedures, runbooks, and best practices in Confluence, creating a centralized knowledge base that improved team efficiency and enabled consistent incident handling across ticketing systems.

Data Pipeline & System Reliability Automation (HCL Technologies)

- Engineered Python-based ETL pipelines and scheduled data validation workflows to support business intelligence reporting, ensuring data accuracy and timeliness across production databases (PostgreSQL, MySQL).
- Optimized AWS Lambda functions and CloudWatch configurations for cost-efficient log processing and metric collection, improving observability across microservices deployed on EC2 instances.
- Collaborated with development teams to troubleshoot application issues through log analysis and system behaviour investigation, identifying performance bottlenecks and recommending infrastructure upgrades to support business growth and scalability.
